Statement of Intent

My website is for people who love Japanese culture to purchase small and cute goods from Tokyo. It's a website that sells my collection that I brought back when I was traveling in Japan.

I have a strong interest in designing this website and making this website become alive. I am sure that we are all happened to be obsessed with different cultures. We all have a collection of things we brought during a trip that we think it's meaningful. It's such an exciting moment to share my memory with others. On the item listing page, I will post images during travel to capture the moment I saw this particular item in Tokyo.

I want to create an e-commerce site that people can purchase things they feel attached to their feeling.
